

Vaastav is a Telugu drama movie directed by Singeetam Srinivasa Rao. It is produced by Singeetam Srinivasa Rao, T.V.Lakshmi, and Kishore Mor. The film stars Chiranjeevi, Shilpa Shetty, Amrith Puri and Mohan Babu in the lead roles while Prakash Raj appears in an extended cameo appearance as the antagonist of the film . The soundtrack was composed by Haiyaraaja while the cinematography was handled by K. Vittal Reddy . The film released in the year 1999. The story is about a happy man (Chiranjeevi) who desires to help the poor people in his country, but due to some unfortunate events that happen in his life, he comes across an evil person (Mohan Babu) and he is forced to change his tactics in order to save himself and his family. The rest of the story revolves around how he deals with the situation. Chiranjeevi plays a happy go lucky guy by nature. He lives happily with his wife Indu (Shilpa Shetty). His brother-in-law Mithlesh (Prakash Raj) has taken care of him after Chiru's father's death. He works as a newspaper photographer and is highly respected in his village. He is shown spending most of his time helping the poor and needy. He even takes care of the education of a young girl. An Officer (Mohan Babu) arrives at the village on a mission to kill the dacoits who used to loot the villages by taking revenge from those dacoits who were responsible for killing his father. The Officer is told that those dacoits fled away from the village and settled in another village and demanded protection money from the villagers there. Meanwhile, Chiru and Indu go to another town where Chiru's brother (Achyuth Kumar) stays with his family. The kids of the house help Mohan Babu to settle down in the house. Chiru goes to another village in search of a job. He wants to send money to his brother who wants to get married so that he can fulfill the dowry requirements. The officer arrives at Chiru's village with his wife (Rajeev) and daughter (Namrata). He is surprised when he hears about Chiru's services for poor people in the village. He gets angry when he comes across a scene where Chiru is shown helping a group of poor villagers who are being exploited by some rich people in which he has beaten up one person who tried exploiting them by making him work without paying him for doing so. He also gets enraged when he hears that Chiru has beaten up the other person who was trying to take advantage of the poor villagers. Mohan Babu gets suspicious about Chiru because he doesn't know how to read and write. He takes a small lesson from a local man who is extremely poor to teach him reading using a book without paying him money. He also steals some clothes from a shop, but nobody notices because nobody goes to shop there during winter months. Meanwhile, Indu tells Chiru about an engine company where she works and she wants him to get a job there by impersonating as her husband so that he can get the required salary for supporting his brother's marriage arrangements.
